Age: 29

Freelance illustrator and comic artist from Inari. At age of 14 I came in third in a nationwide comic contest, and ever since I've been working within Saami community, going full time freelancer in 2012. My works range from educational books to animations and 200 page graphic novel. My strengths are ability to adapt any project and communication: as one of the few Sami illustrators I've drawn everything from colorful children's story books to post-apocalyptic sci-fi exhibitions and action-fantasy comics, actively engaging with the client. I speak North Saami as mothertongue, and I understand a little bit of Inari Saami.
